

CALIFORNIA WATER ENVIRONMENT ASSOCIATION
SANTA CLARA VALLEY SECTION

DINNER MEETING
November 16, 2017

Topic: Learn about the first Biosolids to Energy System in the United States~

In 2012 BioForceTech Corporation was founded with the goal of developing smart-machines that convert any biological waste into renewable energy and valuable by-products. After 3 years of R&D, BioForceTech contracted with Silicon Valley Clean Water, in Redwood City to produce the first biosolids to energy system in the US.

Founder, Dario Presezzi's vision is to install these automated systems all over the world, in order to transform waste into energy and recycle the elements of our waste.

Speaker: Dario Presezzi, founder of BioForceTech

Dario Presezzi graduated in Industrial Biotechnology at the University of Milan, Italy. After graduation, he founded Inspike, a software company with a focus on advanced industrial automation. Soon after he and his team created BioForceTech.
